Product Description

Mini Advent calendar "Dresden Hofkirche"

On this Mini Advent calendar the entire panorama of the "Terrassenufer" with the Catholic Hofkirche Dresden can be seen. Although Saxony was a Protestant kingdom, Augustus the Strong needed a Catholic court church, because he had converted to the Catholic faith, in order to be the King of Poland. The Dresden Hofkirche is the largest building in the style of Roman Baroque and its construction was completed in 1754. In 1980, the court church has been announced to the Cathedral of St. Trinity by a papal order . The windows are positioned and fit into the architectural structures with special care. With this Mini Advent calendar send a piece of Saxony's history as a holiday greeting to business partners, family and friends.
