Product Description

Quite a few people claim that meetings are among the biggest time eaters in the universe when it takes and takes and takes. So it's all the better that LALA exists. The stylish hourglass is ideal as a time stopper for workshops, meetings and gatherings of all kinds and is simply placed in the middle of the conference table. When the black-coloured sand gently trickles through the 30 cm high borosilicate glass, all participants know whose hour it is. 60 minutes time, that's the deal from now on, clearly visible to all. Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
