Product Description

No, it's not earthenware! And, yes, it looks like it. But again, no, it's definitely not earthenware, because the amazingly similar appearance is actually based on an aluminium body that is powder-coated after its creation - and, bang, the perfect illusion is finished. The advantages are obvious: unbreakable and wonderfully solid. But the real plus points LIM collects are in its unbeatably appealing design, which provides a stylish stage for even the most mundane things in everyday life.
