Product Description

Alpha, Bravo, Charlie! We hereby grant immediate launch permission for the Supersonic paper aeroplane made of highly polished stainless steel. Two wings, each with a ruler for measuring inches and centimetres. In between, an elongated wedge that takes fountain pens, ballpoint pens or pencils on board as passengers. The gift idea for frequent flyers and over-achievers brings back memories of school days. The design by Jörg Langkop definitely has something offbeat about it; from now on, people will only work flexitime. Attention! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
