Product Description

No, it's not earthenware! And, yes, it looks like it. But no again, it's definitely not stoneware, because the astonishingly similar appearance is actually based on an aluminium body that is powder-coated after it has been created - and, bang, the perfect illusion is complete. The advantages are obvious: unbreakable and wonderfully solid. But the real plus points of LIM are its unbeatably attractive design, which provides a stylish stage for even the most mundane everyday objects.
