Product Description

Product description Our brand new wooden spoons made from natural neem wood are versatile. They are perfect for spices, coffee, tea, sugar, oil or even for savouring desserts. The spoons are lovingly handcrafted and have smooth edges. Their outstanding quality makes them robust and durable. The natural wooden spoons offer the advantage of leaving no marks or scratches on containers. They are not only practical, but also beautiful to look at and bring a touch of naturalness to the kitchen. To ensure that the spoons remain in good condition for a long time, we recommend cleaning them occasionally under running water and rubbing them with olive oil after drying. This gives the wood a beautiful patina and keeps it in perfect condition.
