Product Description

Starfish drain hair catcher During a visit to the aquarium by the design team, the idea of Starfish was born, which resembles the characteristics of a starfish that can suck itself to the bottom of the aquarium with its suction cups. Use this playful yet functional design for any bath or shower in your home. The starfish hair filter uses the suction cups on its 5 arms to hold itself above the drain so that it does not slip when water flows in. Made of flexible silicone, this product is easy to clean and fun to install; simply press down on each suction cup over your bathtub drain and you're done! Fits all standard bath and shower drains.
